

About your Loan Officer,

Paul Atkins

NMLS #1632303

Paul first became interested in reverse mortgages when he was helping his 94-year-old mother with her finances. After learning everything he could about reverse mortgages, he helped her obtain a reverse mortgage with FSI Mortgage. This experience led him to become a mortgage loan specialist himself! Now he is looking forward to guiding others in managing their finances using the right mortgage to fit their needs.

Paul has over fifty years of experience in business, most of that time in leadership or mentoring roles. He has been CFO or Corporate Controller at several companies; he has also served as an interim CFO for several companies. He worked on the trading floor of the NYSE when he was with Merrill Lynch, and has managed portfolios worth millions of dollars.

Paul was raised in New York City and Madison, Wisconsin. His nine years of college include the University of Wisconsin (Classics), the University of Washington (Economics), and the University of Oregon (Law). He has lost track of all the licenses he has needed over the years to work in the securities and insurance industries, the financial industry, and the legal profession. He is very excited to now be in the mortgage industry, working as a Mortgage Loan Officer with FSI Mortgage!
